

Contamination Assessments, nationwide

Client

Various.

Project

Various projects for private companies and local authorities investigating, assessing and managing the risk of contamination. Small and large scale projects are undertaken throughout New Zealand involving historic land uses such as horticulture, sheep dipping, timber treatment, uncontrolled filling or dumping and other industrial land uses.

Services provided

- Desk top investigation into site history
- Details site investigation and site characterisation
- Human health and ecological risk assessments
- Preparation of remediation action plans and resource consent applications
- Contract management and site supervision
- Validation testing
- Reporting
- Ongoing site management.

www.tonkin.co.nz